Educational Design and Asset Creation

It is now possible to create all kinds of educational assets: narrated PowerPoints, podcasts, pencasts, animations, videos, virtual and augmented reality. Is this a good idea? Martin revisits pedagogy and curriculum design as a way of deciding when to make educational assets and what kind are most appropriate.

Speaker: MARTIN BROWN

Martin is an experienced educator with a background in the media industry. He produced Moulin Rouge, was co-producer of Romeo+Juliet and art director of Strictly Ballroom. He was Director of Award Courses at the Australian Film Television and Radio School. He is now Program Manager Innovative Technologies for USYD at Westmead.
