B: TERM NAME	GENERAL TRAUMA
Overview of Unit or Service	Please outline the role of the unit and range of clinical services provided: The Trauma Unit is one of the designated trauma services in New South Wales. It serves the population of western Sydney and western New South Wales and is responsible for the care of all trauma patients. There are unique learning opportunities as the Unit is staffed by a multi-disciplinary team of consultants from Surgery, the Emergency Department, Intensive Care and Anaesthetics. In addition, a number of emergency general surgery patients are cared for the members of the Trauma Unit. Please outline the patient case mix, acuity and turnover: The Trauma Unit is responsible for the care of all trauma patients. It provides initial assessment and therapeutic management for patients referred from the Emergency Department as well as the wards. Multi-trauma patients are initially admitted under the Unit and then distributed to the various subspecialty teams as dictated by the predominant injury. Complex multi-trauma patients have ongoing care under the Trauma Unit. Many of the patients require intensive medical supervision providing significant exposure to challenging and complex clinical care. Many require intensive and/or high dependency care. The Unit provides the opportunity to learn a great deal about the conditions treated by the Unit and to gain insight into the surgical management trauma conditions. The junior medical officers (JMOs) will be working a 7 day on 7 day off roster along with a senior RMO and Trauma registrar. The hours of work will be 0730-1930. There is also a Trauma Fellow on site Monday to Friday and readily accessible after hours. There are daily consultant ward rounds. With regards to education, the JMOs are encouraged and able to attend the hospital JMO sessions and other sessions such as hospital grand rounds during their on and off weeks. In addition, there are weekly trauma tutorials which they can attend. The trauma education sessions rotate weekly on a monthly basis with trauma grand rounds, American Association for the Surgery of Trauma videoconference grand rounds and trauma/anaesthesia education meetings.
